

Lunchtime Debate
Friday, September 15, 2006 at 12:30pm
Room 114, Avery Hall
GSAPP, Columbia University

DID SOMEONE SAY PARTICIPATE? IN THIS DISCUSSION? YES!

WITH:

Shumon Basar, DIRECTOR, CULTURAL AND CURATORIAL PRACTICES, ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION

Reinhold Martin, PROFESSOR, GSAPP

Markus Miessen, UNIT MASTER, ARCHITECTURAL ASSOCIATION

Grahame Shane, PROFESSOR, GSAPP

Felicity Scott, PROFESSOR, GSAPP

Srdjan Jovanovic Weiss, NORMAL ARCHITECTURE OFFICE & SCHOOL OF MISSING STUDIES

Did Someone Say Participate? An Atlas of Spatial Practice (MIT Press) is a new book co-edited by Shumon Basar and Markus Miessen that brings together a diverse collection of today's cultural practitioners, from artists to geographers to human rights activists, and looks at the ways in which the language and concepts of space have been appropriated beyond the province of architecture in order to create new continents of knowledge. This lunchtime discussion will explore the reasons and ramifications of disciplinary trespassing on the future of knowledge-production and practice.

www.didsomeonesayparticipate.com